Dear Mr Panchal

Thank you for your response to this application.

I accept that you have agreed to the conditions as recommended by the Police however there are still concerns as raised at the meeting over Mr Gulati's association with Mr Chopra and we will refer this application to the Licensing Sub Committee for determination.

You will be notified as soon as possible once the date for the hearing has been set.

Kind regards

Mick Sims

Subject: RE: new premises licence application - 18 High Street, Slough

Melanie,

I have reviewed the attached License Application and have noted that the comments made in section M meeting the licensing objectives part (d) prevention of public nuisance do not address the issues raised by the NET in the License Review document where it was stated –

An alcohol products marking scheme has been previously trialled informally in other off licences within problem areas within the borough since December 2011 and has led to an indicated reduction in street drinking and related litter locally.

This alcohol products marking scheme requires the marking of identified alcohol products to be sprayed with "Smart Water" which is a permanent UV substance. This enables a link to be established back to the point of original purchase.

Whilst the presence of a marked alcohol product in the hands of, for example, an underage drinker would not prove that an offence had been committed by the shop, it would be sufficient to require further checks at the shop, such as examination of the CCTV records or that procedures at the shop may be failing. In similar circumstances the same principles would apply for alcohol products being found in the hands of regular and known street drinks and for accumulations of alcohol products discarded packaging and containers.

We would seek that this "Smart Water" alcohol products marking scheme be made a formal requirement on Roshni Food and Wine by imposing the following condition on the license :-

The Premises License Holder is formally required to undertake the requirements of the Council's alcohol product marking scheme to enable alcohol product containers to be linked to the point of sale providing "prima-facie" evidence to enable further investigation by the Police and Council. This is to establish whether appropriate responsibility is being taken by the licensee to refuse sales to underage or intoxicated individuals and to ensure the business complies with its duties with regards to waste from its premises either generated by itself or its patrons activities.

In addition to issues of responsible selling of alcohol, the linking of bottles/cans to the point of sale will enable action under the Clean Neighbourhoods and Environment Act 2005 and Environmental Protection Act 1990 to require the business proprietor to clear the litter generated by their customers.

This issue was also verbally raised at the License Review committee meeting so the then DPS and his representatives are aware that this is an issue that needs to be addresses in a sustainable and clearly structured manner.

In reading the new Premises Licence Application by Raghbir Singh Gulati that was sent to me on the 6/3/14 I can see no attention has really been paid to this issue or any clear statement of actually what is being proposed. There are points stating a policy will be put in place and monitoring will be carried out, however this is simply not good enough. This premise has been made continually aware of the problems it creates in the locality and clearly has not shown any demonstration in its most recent License Application that it takes the matter seriously and is prepared to actually do something about it.

Therefore, based on this, the Neighbourhood Enforcement Team would object to this application on the grounds stated above.

Regards,

Ian
