

4 Other Implications

(a) Financial

The following was spent on cleaning and tidying the four town memorials:

Memorial	Details of work	Cost (VAT excluded)
Langley, Langley Memorial Ground	Steam cleaning of cenotaph and surrounding area Application of micro-crystalline hard wax covering Application of biocide to prevent moss formation Re-enamelling of incised lettering Lime pointing	£2,609.80
Chalvey, St Peter's Church	Steam cleaning of cenotaph and surrounding area Application of micro-crystalline hard wax covering Application of biocide to prevent moss formation Lime pointing	£1,745.00
Cippenham, College Green	Steam cleaning of cenotaph and surrounding area Application of micro-crystalline hard wax covering Application of biocide to prevent moss formation Re-enamelling of incised lettering Lime pointing	£1,557.60
Slough, St Mary's Church	Steam cleaning of cenotaph and surrounding area Application of micro-crystalline hard wax covering Application of biocide to prevent moss formation Painting of incised lettering Lime pointing	£2,482.20
Total		£8,394.60

Though the work has already been undertaken; due to the wish to have all work completed prior to the WW1 centenary and time restrictions, the maintenance was paid for from the Council's general fund budget.

However, as the trustee of the War Memorial Garden Trust, Full Council can approve a transfer to cover the costs incurred.

The current War Memorial Garden Trust stands at £89,200

5 Supporting Information

- 5.1 The War Memorial Gardens Trust was set up to for the benefit of the public to receive income and facilitate expenditure for the maintenance of the town's memorials.
- 5.2 It is a charitable trust (charity reference 1010350) and the council is the trustee. There is no delegation of authority and therefore Full Council are responsible for authorising spend by the Trust.
- 5.3 As part of the preparations for the local events planned as part of the national WW1 centenary events, officers were asked to ensure all the town's memorials were clean and in a fit state to play their role in commemoration activities.
- 5.4 Following a procurement process, officers tasked Independent Memorial Inspection (IMI) with surveying, inspecting and professionally cleaning all four of the memorials and undertaking extra work – for example painting or pointing – where required and appropriate.
- 5.5 IMI is a professional war memorial company who work with the War Memorial Archive, part of the Imperial War Museum and completed the work on 24 July 2014.

- 5.6 Due to tight timescales for work to be completed and the possibility of extra work being undertaken the order for work was placed using a general fund budget.
- 5.7 Now we are requesting War Memorial Gardens Trust money is used to cover the expenditure on the general fund.

6 Comments of Other Committees

The final decision on the transfer of funds can only be made by Full Council as the trustee of the War Memorial Gardens Trust.

7 Conclusion

The work undertaken on the town's four war memorials has been very well received by the public and has fulfilled a promise made to residents.
