5 Supporting Information

Local authorities' statutory responsibilities for educational excellence are set out in Section 13a of the Education Act 1996. That duty states that a local authority must exercise its education functions with a view to promoting high standards. SBC as the local authority has a statutory responsibility to monitor, challenge and intervene in maintained schools. The Education Act 1996 places a duty on the local authority to promote high standards in academies and free schools. These schools are not maintained by SBC so it does not have powers of intervention, these are held by the Secretary of State.

The SBC Strategy for raising pupil achievement (attached at Appendix A) outlines how SBC as local authority intends to work with early years settings, schools and other partners to promote high standards.

The SBC Policy for raising pupil achievement (attached at Appendix B) outlines how SBC will fulfil its statutory duty towards maintained schools to monitor, challenge, provide early support for those schools in difficulty and intervene as necessary.

In order that there is a clear and constructive working relationship between SBC as local authority and academies and free schools a protocol for working together has been drafted. This outlines the legal expectations placed upon academies and the local authority and outlines how the local authority intends to work with academies and free schools to discharge these responsibilities. (attached at Appendix C)

These three documents were endorsed for consultation by Scrutiny Committee in December 2014. Head teacher representatives were involved in the drafting of these documents. These documents have been circulated for consultation widely including all head teachers and chairs of governors of all schools and academies in Slough.

There have been no suggested alterations raised as a result of this consultation and so it is proposed that these documents are now adopted as SBCs policies.

An important aspect of SBCs Raising Pupil Achievement Strategy is the allocation of appropriate resources to achieve the proposed aims of the strategy. In discussion and agreement with Schools Forum it is proposed that resources are allocated to different strands of activity within the strategy.

These strands of activity for 2015/16 are:

Annual monitoring of schools via the 'Autumn Visit'- a visit by a school improvement consultant to discuss with the head teacher and chair of governors the school's performance and areas for development;

Support by school improvement consultants for maintained schools needing to improve, either identified after an Autumn Visit or after an Ofsted inspection;

Targeted consultant work on areas for support and improvement such as performance of SEN pupils and performance of different groups of pupils as defined by deprivation or ethnicity;

Support for Literacy and Maths in primary and secondary schools;

Head teacher development programme;

A governors' support, training and briefing programme.

Some of this support is delivered by school improvement consultants and some via schools supporting each other, either individually or through school networks.

The total level of funding in 2015/16 to support school improvement and school development across the Borough is projected to be circa £650,000.

6 Conclusion

Cabinet is requested to consider the recommendations set out in the report.
