

Slough Trading Standards

Service Delivery
Plan 2017/2018

Consumer Protection and Business Compliance Group

The Consumer Protection and Business Compliance Group is an outward facing service group including members from:

- Trading Standards
- Food & Safety
- Licensing
- Community Safety
- CCTV and Careline

Our aim is to achieve a safe, healthy and fair trading town for our residents, businesses and visitors. The wide ranging work of the group is risk based and is fundamental in creating a level playing field in which responsible businesses can flourish and our communities remain protected from rogues.

Trading Standards

Slough Borough Council's Trading Standards Service has responsibility for the vast majority of consumer protection issues that arise in Slough.

Trading Standards provide advice and guidance to consumers and businesses based within the borough, in conjunction with Citizens Advice Consumer Service. We play a major role in residents' health, safety and economic wellbeing.

This service delivery plan is provided to keep you informed of our achievements and future plans and how we intend to deliver them with the continued cooperation of our internal and external partners and stakeholders.

The work we have completed and continue to carry out is achieved through:

- prompt responses to intelligence/complaints, triggering detailed investigations into consumer protection offences
- targeted project work
- participation in regional and national liaison groups
- risk based inspection programmes
- training and advice, provided to both consumers and traders
- working with other organisations with similar priorities
- proportionate enforcement – with prosecution of offenders as a last resort (in line with our enforcement policy).

This plan is reviewed annually and we welcome your views, comments and suggestions on how it could be improved.

Growing a place of opportunity and ambition

Our vision

The Joint Wellbeing Strategy and the council's Five Year Plan set out a vision for Slough, for the people, the place, the prosperity and the town, and the things that need to be done to make this a reality. Businesses and other partners within Slough are already working together to improve life in the borough.

The focus of work within the Trading Standards Service is to ensure that the council is able to fulfil its statutory obligations under the relevant legislation and that this is geared towards Slough's specific community and business needs, based on local intelligence and the Five Year Plan outcomes. More detail on the five year plan can be found at:

<http://www.slough.gov.uk/council/strategies-plans-and-policies/regulatory-and-enforcement-services-enforcement-policy.aspx>

Our work underpins these objectives and also supports the two cross-cutting themes of the Joint Wellbeing Strategy and Joint Strategic Needs Assessment - civic responsibility and promoting the image of the town.

One aim is to protect and enhance public health and wellbeing while supporting local businesses.

We will achieve this through the attached action plan, (appendix B). This should be read in conjunction with our enforcement policy which aims to ensure a graduated approach to enforcement based on risk. The action plan shows how we are going to achieve this and demonstrates a direct link with the five year plan to achieve the council's wider outcomes. The action plan should be read in conjunction with our enforcement policy.

The enforcement policy reaffirms our commitment to carry out our duties in an open, fair and consistent manner. We recognise most people want to comply with the law, therefore, we want to support and enable them to meet their legal obligations without unnecessary expense. Assessment of risk and the likelihood of reoccurrence are major factors in our enforcement decisions. However, firm action will be taken, including prosecution, where appropriate. The full enforcement policy can be accessed at:

<http://www.slough.gov.uk/council/strategies-plans-and-policies/regulatory-and-enforcement-services-enforcement-policy.aspx>

The service plan sets out the actions we are taking to enhance and improve health, safety and wellbeing in Slough, while ensuring a fair, safe and equitable trading environment.

DRAFT

Primary Authority Scheme

Primary Authority partnerships comprise a legally binding contract between the authority and a business to provide ongoing specialist advice on specific areas of regulation applicable to that business, such as fair trading, product labelling, product safety, food safety and health and safety.

Our officers are able to provide companies that trade across council boundaries robust and reliable advice, through the creation of these legal partnerships. The scheme also provides a safety net to ensure local authorities are consistent in the way they regulate businesses.

Assured advice is provided to businesses with the establishment of Primary Authority partnerships or through co-ordinated partnerships. This has brought many advantages to businesses in Slough.

Since Slough Borough Council introduced Primary Authority partnerships in April 2011, we have secured more than 40 successful Primary Authority partnership agreements. These services are uniquely provided by in-house specialist officers.

Cost recovery is an essential element of the contracts and applicable to Primary Authority partnerships with an hourly charge for any work undertaken. In 2016/17, along with our colleagues in Food Safety, we obtained cost recovery of circa £86,000. This cost recovery enables the council to support businesses in Slough and increase the availability of specialist officers who are funded by the Primary Authority at no extra cost to the council. Last year we received 98 direct requests for advice from our Primary Authority portfolio of companies. A large number of other interactions with our Primary Authority companies were successfully completed and a high proportion of these were satisfied consumer complainants. We also liaised daily with other local authorities and act as a single point of contact for any enquiries concerned with our portfolio of Primary Authority companies, reducing burdens on business and preventing any unnecessary duplication. We also liaise with other local authorities to ensure any inspection and enforcement action reflects the advice we have already given, and is proportionate.

In the past year we received a total of 354 enquiries from companies for whom we act as Primary Authority. The number of businesses joining Primary Authority partnerships with the council continues to grow and this will have a profound impact upon how we deliver the service, requiring a flexible approach to our management of resources. Maintaining and promoting the Primary Authority scheme within Slough contributes to the council's overall aim of Slough being the premier location in the South East for businesses of all sizes to locate, start, grow, and stay.

More information on Primary Authority partnerships can be found on the Primary Authority website <https://primaryauthorityregister.info/par/index.php/home>

Businesses that would like to join the scheme can either contact 01753 475111 (option 5) or e-mail primary.authority@slough.gov.uk

Age restricted sales

“Among 35 European countries, the UK has the third-highest proportion of 15-year-olds who report having been drunk 10 times or more in the past year.”

(Drinkaware statistics, 2012)

- Underage sales enforcement protects children from harmful items and substances and is a vital feed into the health and wellbeing and ‘safer communities’ priorities of the SCS.
- Trader information packs were distributed to local businesses, providing information on the law on age restricted products, along with advice on due diligence and further information/documents to assist staff training on underage sales matters. Many of these were distributed on Crime Reduction and Enforcement Days (CRED), which Trading Standards participated in throughout the year.
- Licensing reviews have been used for all traders failing a test purchase. This can result in conditions on the trader’s licence or even a complete revocation. Three traders are currently in the process of having their premises licence reviewed following sales of age restricted goods or other Trading Standards intervention. Trading Standards supports licensing by preparing evidence packs to support the licensing review.
- Testing purchasing is essential and establishes whether local businesses are complying with the law and not selling restricted goods to children.

Underage sales operations - Figures for 2016/17

- Alcohol - attempted purchases = 14 - sales = 3
- Fireworks - attempted purchases = 7 - sales = 2
- e-cigarette (e-Cigs) - attempted purchases = 2 - sales = 0

Total sales = 5 out of 23 attempted purchases.

In 2017/18 Trading Standards will continue to provide trader information packs and advice to local businesses. We will conduct a programme of age related test purchasing to ensure businesses are compliant and underage young people are protected from alcohol, cigarettes and the dangers of fireworks and other age restricted items. This work is hugely important in protecting children and restricting their access to unhealthy and dangerous products. The accessibility of such products to young children can manifest itself in numerous ways, including early exposure to harmful products, early criminality and anti-social behaviour.

Last year as an alternative to enforcement action, we gave traders who had sold age restricted items to our child volunteers a chance to sit an age restricted training course, recognised nationally (a BTEC nationally accredited level 2 educational course). This alternative resolution comprises a training pack pre read and an exam. Completion of the course avoids a potential criminal prosecution. This achieves two things:

1. It increases the knowledge and skill of the trader and in doing so, their ability and competence to prevent further sales.
2. It also avoids often protracted and expensive legal proceedings. The option to let any trader take on such a course is done so whilst having reference to our prosecution policy at every stage.

Last year three traders took this this option and successfully completed the course.

Legal highs (new psychoactive substances)

As of 26 May 2016, a new act - the New Psychoactive Substances Act 2016 - came into force, aiming to tackle the problem of legal highs and give a clearer understanding of our enforcement role. The early impact of the legislation would appear to have sent the trade in legal highs underground and into street dealing alongside Class A and B drugs. We continue to liaise with the police on intelligence and partnership working in this area.

The law is complex and we have spent considerable time advising retailers on their responsibilities. A lot of products on general sale can potentially have psychoactive effects and retailers need to be aware of their responsibility to minimise the risk of exposure and misuse.

Serious organised crime

From late 2014 and throughout 2015 Trading Standards received a huge number of complaints about a specific local trader. The trader was involved in reconditioning and servicing engines. The service was inundated with so many complaints that we needed to seek the assistance of Thames Valley Police and our Trading Standards tri regional investigation. This culminated in Thames Valley Police leading on the case, with support from ourselves and our colleagues in tri regional investigation team, formerly Scambusters.

In early April 2017, after a five and half week trial the jury took almost three days to reach their verdicts, with a majority of 10-2 in each case.

The defendants were, Paul Dockerill and his three sons, Martin, Harry and Jack Dockerill. Their sentences were as follows:

Paul Dockerill – sentenced to 4 ½ years in prison
 Martin Dockerill – sentenced to 3 ½ years in prison
 Harry Dockerill – sentenced to 3 ½ years in prison
 Jack Dockerill – sentenced to 2 years in prison, suspended sentence.

This was a very large and complex investigation which received considerable local publicity. The successful prosecution showed how much added value working with partners can bring, and how all partners can bring their unique skills and knowledge to the table in a collaborative way.

Trading standards are now members of the police run Organised Crime Group which brings agencies and stakeholders together to try and tackle organised crime groups within Slough. Trading standards also participate in police sector tasking across the borough which gives us a voice when we have issues that other agencies can potentially help to remedy.

Tobacco control work

Slough Trading Standards are represented at National Tobacco Focus Group meetings and share regional best practice with colleagues from around the UK.

The department is always looking to build partnerships with other agencies, to combat illegal tobacco supply.

Trading Standards work closely with other agencies such as Thames Valley Police, HMRC, neighbouring local authorities, Slough licensing team, Slough neighbourhood enforcement team and public health teams, both locally and regionally to tackle this issue. The sale of illicit tobacco brings rich pickings to those criminals involved and by its nature enforcement requires a partnership approach.

A representative from the Slough Trading Standards Team also sits on the regional focus groups that specialise in intelligence analysis and illicit tobacco. The criminals involved in illicit tobacco are not locally based, but regionally and nationally, so a holistic approach is required. The intelligence role supplements the data set needed to investigate and enforce this persistent issue.

However, despite new tobacco legislation being given royal assent last year, the legislation failed to provide Trading Standards with powers to enforce its provisions, which prevented us from carrying out the work we planned in this area. However, during 2016/2017 trading standards carried out eight inspections of premises, with the assistance of tobacco detection dogs. As with all our enforcement work, inspections were intelligence led. Below is an outline of the illicit products discovered:

- 228 x packs of 20 cigarettes (4560 sticks in total)

- 80 x 50g packs of hand rolling tobacco (a total weight of 4kg)
- 107 x pouches of chewing tobacco

This constitutes a total estimated worth of £3400 (street value).

We currently have five ongoing investigations relating to tobacco offences.

The investigations all involve seized products that:

- include non-English health warnings
- fail to include pictorial health warnings
- include non-statutory warnings, or
- fail to include any health warnings at all.

Some of these seizures may also involve counterfeit cigarettes which is also a huge issue. All cigarettes are unhealthy and are damaging, but counterfeit cigarettes have gone through little or no quality control and as such, the harmful effects are magnified. Many contain levels of lead and cadmium up to seven times higher than legal products.

Many legitimate traders are disadvantaged by unfair competition in tobacco sales. We believe that the work we carry out helps to create a more level playing field for businesses to compete with each other in the borough.

Further advisory visits will be carried out this year to ensure that businesses are compliant with the Tobacco and Related Products Regulations 2016 and the Standardised Packaging of Tobacco Products Regulations 2015.

The legislation introduced the following requirements:

- (i) Plain packaging for cigarettes and hand rolling tobacco
- (ii) Minimum pack sizes for cigarettes (20 sticks minimum) and hand rolling tobacco (30g minimum)
- (iii) A ban on flavoured tobacco (with the exception of 'menthol' – which is allowed until 2020).

As of May 2017 brands, logos, and flavours (except menthol) were banned on/in any cigarettes or hand rolling tobacco.

The department has worked closely with the retailers we act as Primary Authority for to ensure Nicotine Inhalation Products (more commonly known as e-Cigs) have been correctly introduced without compromising due diligence systems.

Many retailers have adopted new training regimes to encompass this emerging product and we work with them closely to ensure that their systems, minimise as much as possible, their sale to people under 18.

In the forthcoming year we, along with our partners in environmental health, intend to monitor compliance among shisha establishments in Slough.

Illegal money lending and credit

Loan sharks and illegal money lending can devastate communities and the lives of individuals.

Working with Slough Trading Standards, the national England Illegal Money Lending Team – based at Birmingham City Council – not only give free training to Trading Standards but also staff at the council, care workers, police officers, youth workers and many more who come into contact with the community on a daily basis. This gives an insight into the key signs to look out for when dealing with people at risk who may engage with these unscrupulous individuals.

This training details the impact that illegal lenders have on our service users and community. It also gives practical information on how we can work together to stop people being ripped off and make Slough an even safer place to live.

Activities took place during November 2016, where Trading Standards officers accompanied the illegal money lending team during their execution of a warrant on premises in Slough where evidence indicated illegal lending from a loan shark. The perpetrators were charged and later convicted.

Further activities are being arranged to combat illegal money lending and Trading Standards will be working with the Illegal Money Lending Team during 2017/18 on projects to educate the residents of Slough about the perils of taking out loans with loan sharks.

People who lend money illegally, operating without a licence:

- are dangerous & predatory
- suck money out of communities
- often force victims to pay huge rates of interest and threaten violence if victims cannot repay.

Money lending advice will be given by the Credit Union - a legal and safer way to borrow money.

Last year the Trading Standards Team received updated training from the National Money Lending Team so we can ensure our competence in dealing with the issue is appropriate.

Food standards

Trading standards successfully completed 100 per cent of their high risk routine food standards inspections in 2015/2016, in addition to other food standards enforcement visits.

A total of 329 food standards visits were carried out last year.

Further work included:

- giving labelling advice to new food businesses
- providing detailed food standards advice to the relevant Primary Authority partners
- taking part in the following food sampling and food related projects:

Imported food sampling - Total = 8

Traceability sampling - Total = 1

Trading Standards South East (TSSE) Traceability Project - Total = 14

Slough Trading Standards Traceability Project: - Total of visits = 27

- 15 non-compliant (56%)
- 2 compliant (44%)

This project entailed visits to food business outlets (predominately take-aways and mobile food vans) to determine if the food being advertised was as described. It completed in conjunction with the Food Standards Agency (FSA), TSSE and the Public Analyst.

It was found that many of these outlets were incorrectly labelling the food and the business owners were advised at the time of the visit of the legal requirement.

This project has provided the intelligence needed to carry out a further food sampling programme on kebab / burger outlets in Slough during 2017-18.

A separate food standards plan has been produced for Trading Standards for 2017/18. Targets included in appendix B are:

- complete 100 per cent high risk food inspections
- complete 100 per cent medium risk food inspections
- complete 100 per cent of low risk food inspections
- 100 per cent of 'programmed' unrated premises to be inspected and rated within the year
- complete 100 per cent Food Standards Agency funded imported food samples
- complete SBC / Regional food sampling programmes as required.

A total of 222 food standards inspections have been allocated to be completed in the year. The inspections are essential to stay on track with the risk rating system of inspections, as detailed within the statutory Food Law Code of Practice.

Product safety

The trading standards team enforces a wide variety of legislation from the EU and UK. These laws affect all consumer non food products. As well as generic safety laws, there are also sector specific areas of product safety which include toys, plugs and sockets, electrical appliances and furniture.

Trading Standards is responsible for checks on non food items at the border points. In Slough we have 31 custom bonded warehouses which are subject to product safety controls, and also the national Royal Mail distribution hub at Langley. This work is part of a national Trading Standards and TSSE ports project.

Highlights from 2016/2017 are below.

- Advising multi national companies on their labelling of cosmetic and healthcare products.
- Advising importers of cosmetics on roles and responsibilities.
- Conducting product recalls.
- Checks carried out at the border points, resulting in 96 consignments being stopped from entering the UK and EU, involving more than 30,000 goods with an estimated retail value of £50,000.
- The service dealt with 108 enquiries relating to product safety.
- Active participation on the national and regional groups of which Slough is a member and chair.
- A member of our team presented at the European Commission on Carcinogens in consumer products.

Russell Clarke, Senior Trading Standards officer, went to Brussels in November 2016 to take part in a European Commission workshop for regulators. The workshop focused on 'Acceptable level of risk to workers and consumers exposed to carcinogenic substances'.

Russell is chairman of the National Product Safety Focus Group and was asked to give a presentation to the whole of the delegation on 'Approach on the acceptability of risk from consumer products: How to take the risk policy decision.'

Cllr Paul Sohal, the then commissioner for regulation and consumer protection, said: "It's really a matter of great pride that one of our officers took part in this European workshop."

Rogue traders, mass marketing scams and doorstep crime

The Trading Standards doorstep sales response team is constantly on hand to assist residents with any issues they have with rogue traders who carry out work and then charge extortionate amounts for their services.

- Residents can be quoted one price and then the cost increases as the job progresses.
- Rogue traders tend to target elderly or vulnerable people, who may be easier to manipulate or intimidate.
- Some cases have reported victims being driven to banks/building societies to draw out large sums of cash to pay these traders.

The team didn't need to carry out any response visits, indicating we don't have a major problem with rogue traders in the borough. This is good news and shows our work in this area is having an impact.

The team works closely with the social services safeguarding team, providing advice and guidance to vulnerable adults. 32 scam cases that involved making a referral to the safeguarding team were handled during 2016/2017.

As a result of visiting the victims, eight people consented in being referred to the telephone preference service and 18 to the mail preference service. In the forthcoming year, officers will also be the eyes and ears of Royal Berkshire Fire and Rescue Service and report on 'at risk' people who have no, or faulty, fire alarms in their homes.

As a
out.

A "rogue trader day" was carried out in 13 April 2016, with the assistance of Thames Valley Police and the council's community wardens. This resulted in 50 visits to householders who were having maintenance work on their property. The visits were also carried out in partnership with Home Office immigration enforcement and HMRC. Visits were made to premises where building work was being carried out, to establish that these traders were providing proper paperwork and good quality work. As a result of the visits various levels of preventative advice was given. Our colleagues from the Home Office also arrested three illegal workers and processed 16 more.

Colleagues from HMRC initiated a number of investigations into tax evasion by traders.

Further presentations to elderly and vulnerable groups were made this year to the older people's forum and senior tenants association group.

Effectively dealing with rogue traders and preventing and detecting doorstep crime remains a high priority for 2016/2017, and we will continue to provide a rapid response team and share intelligence with neighboring authorities and Thames Valley Police to protect vulnerable consumers from becoming victims of doorstep crime.

[Title?]

Mass marketing scams are the scourge of our communities. They are operated by criminals with the sole purpose of identifying & exploiting often vulnerable, elderly and mentally impaired people. Scams can be a major factor in the decline of the health of older people and elderly victims are 2.4 times more likely to die or go into a care home than those who are not scammed. The average scam victim loses about £1000 to scams but some have lost their homes, their life savings and many thousands of pounds. Many other public services are required to help pick up the pieces and all this has a cost.

The National Trading Standards Scams Team (NTSST) hosted by East Sussex County Council was set up in 2012 to tackle this problem. Mail scams, although not the most common channel for scammers, is one commonly used to target the elderly. This can be anything from lottery scams to the sale of grossly overpriced goods such as supplements. The NTSST obtains details of victims through the seizure of 'sucker's lists' or through work with partner organisations. The team then disseminates this information to local Trading Standards officers who are able to visit the victims and offer advice and support.

Last year a total of 71 visits were made by Slough Trading Standards to scam victims locally.

Last year, a joint initiative by the Trading Standards Institute (CTSI) NTSST was 'The Stand Against Scams Campaign'. This involved the creation of a cross-party network to protect everyone from scams and the damage they cause. This is the #Scambassador network. The information that a #Scambassador gathers locally could also help tackle the problem on a national scale. The then local MP for Slough, Fiona McTaggart signed up to be a #Scambassador last year. By signing up to the initiative, as both a new #Scambassador and as a prominent figurehead of the community, the cases of local scams victims and their families will inevitably surface and require action. Another joint initiative launched by the CTSI & NTSSC last year was 'The Friends Against Scams'. This initiative aims to protect and prevent people from becoming victims of scams by empowering communities to... 'Take a Stand Against Scams.'

Scams affect the lives of millions of people across the UK. People who are scammed often experience loneliness, shame and social isolation.

Friends Against Scams aims to inspire action, highlight the scale of the problem, change the perceptions of why people fall victim to scams and make scams a local, regional and national topic. By attending a Friends Against Scams awareness session or completing the online learning, anyone can learn about the different types of scams and how to spot and support a victim. With increased knowledge and awareness, people can make scams part of everyday conversation with their family, friends and neighbours, which will enable them to protect themselves and others from scams.

Anyone can be a Friend Against Scams and make a difference in their own way. To find out more please see the following link <http://www.friendsagainstscams.org.uk>

In addition, the mail marshal scheme was set up by the NTSSC about 2 years ago. A mail marshal can be any person in the country who is being targeted with scam mail. Once a victim is identified and signs up to being a mail marshal, they have the opportunity to collect, record and forward their unwanted mail to the National Trading Standards Scams Team (NTSST) so that they can monitor the various types of scams and any financial damage suffered as a result of responding to scam mail. The mail marshal is then monitored by a trading standards officer from their local authority to see if they have stopped responding to the scam mail by visiting them after one month and again after four months, discussing their role as mail marshal. Mail marshals will also be issued with a certificate detailing their role.

Slough Trading Standards promote the scheme and have already signed up one mail marshal with more volunteers in the pipeline. If anyone is interested in fighting scams please contact Trading Standards for advice.

Adopt a post office scheme

The adopt a post office scheme was initially set up as post offices are seen as key community locations and as such can be places where residents could meet Trading Standards, police and fire officers on an informal basis and obtain relevant community safety and crime prevention advice. It was first rolled out throughout the Greater Manchester Police area in 2007 and is currently live in 24 police forces to some degree. The scheme was launched in Slough in September 2016 at the Harrow Market post office and a further two events were held at the same venue in October and December 2016. The scheme should eventually be rolled out at other post offices around Slough. Envisaged benefits for customers include the opportunity to identify and discuss local crime and safety issues with an appropriate officer and in doing so, educating and informing at risk and vulnerable customers. The demographic of people who use post offices are often those who either don't have access to the internet or do not wish to use it. This scheme gives us the opportunity to meet and communicate with those people, who often feel left out of such liaison schemes.

Working with high street banks

Slough Trading Standards had a stand at NatWest Bank, High St Slough during December 2016 to educate customers on how to avoid various types of scams including telephone, mail, doorstep and online scams. Advisory leaflets were available as well as door step stickers. Holding such events at banks in targeted areas also remind the banks of their obligations under the British Banking Code of Practice, to intervene when a transaction appears suspicious, and to remind them of Data Protection Act exemptions that exist which allows for the sharing of information with enforcement agencies. Intervention also includes the provision of material such as posters with trading standards' contact details, as well as feeding back positively to head offices when banks intervene to disrupt scams. Trading standards also offer talks and training to staff.

Crime reduction days

Trading Standards also participated in two Crime Reduction and Environment Days (CRED). We called on a total of 49 residents to advise them on how to avoid scams and gave out advisory leaflets and doorstep stickers, which can help deter cold callers.

In the forthcoming year we will utilise government funding to install call blockers into vulnerable people's homes who have been the victim of cold calls. Please contact us if this would interest you or someone you might know.

Animal health

Trading Standards carries out inspections for animal health, animal welfare and animal by-products.

Animal diseases are always a threat. The Slough Notifiable Animal Disease Contingency Plan was updated last year, and was necessary to be reviewed again due to several outbreaks of avian flu around the country, and is compiled with regular liaison with our emergency planning team.

The trading standards team ensure that certain raw meat waste is disposed of correctly and doesn't go to landfill sites.

Trading Standards conducts regular liaison and enforcement work with the council's dog warden service in order to address problems with the supply of puppies, particularly incorrect descriptions of medical history, parentage and health. Further liaison with the dog warden service will continue this year.

We will also continue to liaise with local poultry keepers, to ensure that they are aware of the restrictions imposed by DEFRA, in order to control recent H5N1 Avian Flu outbreaks; which can also affect the descriptions of eggs (i.e. free range eggs).

We have recently set up a Memorandum of Understanding with West Berkshire Trading Standards to ensure that we can respond to animal health, welfare and feedstuff complaints. Due to the nature of Slough and its urban profile, we get very few animal health enquiries. As there is a competency requirement for any officer to enforce the provisions of the various acts of parliament in this area, it is more cost effective to buy this service in.

Education and encouraging channel shift

Education is vital for consumers, in order for them to make informed choices when purchasing and to prevent them being ripped off.

In 2017/18 Trading Standards will be providing a range of educational services to both businesses and consumers.

Two educational talks were delivered last year to the older peoples forum in Slough. The talks were aimed at raising awareness among the elderly about the different types of scams that are perpetrated, particularly on vulnerable people, how to avoid them and what action to take if one has fallen foul of a scam. The average age of a scam victim is 74 so the target audience for the talks was particularly relevant.

Increasingly, we will be encouraging both traders and consumers to use the self help guidance sheets listed on our website: <https://www.slough.gov.uk/business/trading-standards/>

The promotion of our website as a first point of call is an important action as it will hopefully relieve the pressure on front line officers who would usually have to respond to enquiries that can be dealt with by simple signposting to our website.

We continue to monitor website footfall throughout the year to measure how many people are visiting our website compared to the previous year. We aim to increase website use and encourage further channel shift. This will be achieved through better communication and promotion of the website, as well as utilising our website and social media in new and novel ways.

Publicity

With the varied remit of enforcement that Trading Standards covers, it is essential that this is publicised to inform people of the work we do.

- Press releases are published to advise of results that we have achieved or to provide warnings to the public on issues that have arisen. They are vitally important in raising the profile of the service.

Examples of press releases this year include:

- bogus callers / doorstep sellers,
 - raising awareness of loan sharks
 - advice on the purchase and safe use of fireworks
 - advice on avoiding counterfeit and unsafe toys in the lead up to Christmas
 - advice on scams and educating consumers of tell-tale signs and how to avoid them
 - plain packaging of tobacco and the new regulations
 - prosecutions.
- Naming and shaming of offenders, along with results on legal cases.
 - A total of 14 press releases were issued in 2016/17.
 - More than 60 'tweets' were issued on a wide variety of trading standards and consumer issues.
 - Over the Christmas period, we again conducted a campaign called '12 days of Christmas' along with daily Tweets with top tips, which were sent to ensure residents enjoyed a safe Christmas.

Again this year, we aim to maintain a high media profile and use the media wherever possible to promote the work of the service, including social media. We also aim to ensure we promote the work of the service using social media in innovative ways, and in doing so, hopefully promote the work of the service to an audience never reached before.

Counterfeit goods

“There is hardly anything in the world that some man cannot make a little worse and sell a little cheaper, and the people who consider price only are this man's lawful prey.” John Ruskin.

The practice of counterfeiting or making fakes has plagued us for many years despite efforts to eradicate this billion pound world industry. Slough plays its part in attempting to curb this pernicious trade. Not only does quality suffer but there is a real problem that some of these fakes are dangerous and may be life threatening. In addition, the honest retailer will be losing out on business, taxes and business rates are avoided and investment in product development is put at risk.

2016 saw the culmination of an operation into a large scale on-line retailer of counterfeit goods with over 900 items seized. He appeared in court and was given eight sentences of eight weeks imprisonment, suspended for 12 months, made to do 100 hours of unpaid work (formerly known as community service) and required to pay a contribution of £1,500 towards costs.

On a smaller scale, a local retailer was selling counterfeit clothing. The shop was visited and nearly 200 items of clothing were seized. Due to the defendant being ill, it was decided that the matter would be concluded with a simple caution and the owner signing over the goods for destruction. The value of the goods seized was in the region of £12,000 from these two matters.

In addition, there are four ongoing investigations into electronic equipment and more clothing. Fake tobacco and spirits also figure in national statistics, but the seizures in Slough this year have, for the moment, gone down compared to the previous year.

Control of explosives

Fireworks

Trading Standards has a responsibility to licence the storage and retail of fireworks. During 2016/17 we licenced 20 businesses within the borough - three of which are additionally licenced to sell fireworks all year round.

We also conducted underage test purchase checks and unfortunately two businesses sold fireworks to our volunteers.

Weights and measures

Other crimes that have been with us for centuries are short weight and false scales. We used to carry out random checks on both goods and equipment. However, new legislation requires enforcement officers to give 48 hours notice to the business owner that we wish to carry out an inspection which has put an end to random inspections.

Where we have reason to suspect any offence, we can inspect without the need for a notice. This means that we need some form of intelligence, often in the form of a complaint from the public, before we can enter without notice. We have had little such intelligence this year so it is left to the officer working under food legislation (where no such prior notice is required to inspect) to be vigilant.

In this way a variety of equipment has been checked, from shop scales to measures of length and many varieties of goods checked.

- Last year, qualified officers examined 678 pieces of equipment with a 96 per cent compliance rate.
- Inspectors of weights and measures provide advice to local businesses that pack by weight or volume, to make sure their systems are robust and durable; ensuring consumers can have confidence in the purchases that they make.
- This year, inspectors dealt with a number of enquiries relating to weights and measures, including petrol pumps, short weights on food products, etc.
- The department also provides weights and measures advice and assistance to our Primary Authority companies in the borough, many of whom are packers so need to ensure their tolerances are correct on all their weight.
- We hosted delegates from the Maltese central government in conjunction with the National Measurement and Regulation Office (NMRO) to help enhance their legal framework by demonstrating how to conduct a liquid fuel inspection.

Last year, this authority also agreed to participate in a national project that aimed to check that verifiers of weighbridges (usually contracted and approved companies) were carrying out their duties properly. We have checked final certificates of accuracy for compliance.

Road traffic checks

Trading Standards carries out checks (with Thames Valley Police) on the weight of commercial vehicles, from small transit vans to large articulated vehicles.

Overloaded road vehicles can contribute to:

- excessive noise
- increased air pollution
- road damage
- vehicle accidents
- steering and braking problems.

An overloaded vehicle could potentially endanger other road users and constitutes as 'dangerous driving'.

We link with the police, DVSA, and Slough Borough Council's resilience and enforcement team to carry out joint exercises on overloaded vehicles. Four such exercises took place this year with a satisfactory result in each, illustrating that on the day of each exercise no overloaded vehicles were detected.

Overloading goods vehicles gives the owner an unfair commercial advantage, damages roads and can be very dangerous, affecting tyres, braking and steering.

Assured trader scheme(s)

Our Buy With Confidence scheme here in Slough is now managed by Hampshire Trading Standards.

We aim to look into the viability of entering a similar arrangement with another provider, to support local business and the best interest of both residents and traders.

Additional targeted project work

Lettings agent project:

This project was commissioned as a result of new legislation which came into force regulating letting and property agents. The legislation was twofold, that being: The Redress Schemes for Lettings Agency Work and Property Management Work (Requirement to Belong to a Scheme etc)(England) Order 2014 and the Consumer Rights Act 2015. The legislation imposes new requirements for letting agents to display their prices and to be a member of a recognised ombudsmen scheme to assist with any dispute resolution.

The letting agents industry has featured highly on research into scales of consumer detriment and this new legislation is welcome. It also closely supports outcome two of Slough Borough Council's Five Year Plan: There will be more homes, with quality improving across all tenures to support our ambition for Slough with the necessary infrastructure to support and sustain the community.

- All agents on our records were advised of the new legislation and their responsibilities to be a member of a property ombudsman scheme and to list all their prices.
- Following the advice, letting agents were monitored and the vast majority were found to be compliant. Some were found to be falsely claiming to be member of other trade associations and are being investigated.

- Nationally there has been a 14 per cent increase in lettings membership of a recognised ombudsmen scheme since the new legislation was introduced on 1 October 2014.

Complaints and enquiries

Throughout 2016/17 we continued to work with our partners for the Citizen's Advice Consumer Service (CitA). Citizen's Advice Consumer Service is funded by government to offer civil advice nationally through their contact centres and website. Any enquires they receive which concern either Slough residents or traders are then referred to Slough Trading Standards and where we can identify a criminal breach, are investigated accordingly on a risk assessment basis. During the last year, CitA updated their case management system, which in turn has led to our system of recording referrals and notifications to again change.

Based on the figures we are able to obtain from CitA, our total unique enquiries received is calculated to be 1587. However, when we count the total amount of enquiries received about any issue the service has dealt with 2743 enquiries.

In essence the number of enquiries we have received has stabilised.

As stated previously, we continue to use social media and other information sources have been exploited to encourage channel shift and to minimise avoidable contacts to the service, where other agencies are better placed to respond.

We also carried out a comprehensive review of our customer contacts process. In doing so we introduced a new system of risk rating enquiries, in accordance with the national intelligence operating model. This has assisted officers in grading enquiries according to risk and the process enables them to better assess which contacts are worthy of follow up, which in turn has reduced the number of complaints deemed necessary to follow up. This in turn has released capacity for officers to concentrate on those issues and enquiries which are more serious and which fit into local, regional and national priorities.

We also received a total of 460 enquiries for companies for whom we act as Primary Authority.

I thank you...

Last year the service received six separate letters of thanks from consumers and other stakeholders who wanted to express their appreciation for the work and service they had received.

Enforcement action and policy

Trading Standards has a comprehensive set of measures in place to protect consumers and promote business in the area.

- Any enforcement action taken will be graduated and proportionate; in line with Slough Borough Council's enforcement policy. A full copy of the policy can be found on our website:-

<http://www.slough.gov.uk/council/strategies-plans-and-policies/regulatory-and-enforcement-services-enforcement-policy.aspx>

A summary of our formal enforcement work for the year can be found in Appendix A.

Striving for excellence

Service Standards

Providing excellent customer service is one of our key priorities. In order to achieve this we will always:

- be polite, friendly and offer a helpful service
- take time to listen and explain things
- provide accurate information and advice in a clear straightforward way
- deal with enquiries immediately, but if this is not possible, explain why
- provide you with any other contact details that you may need
- keep you informed of the progress and outcome of any investigations
- treat you fairly and with respect.

Customer Pledge

- We aim to provide every customer with a high quality service and will seek feedback from you to help further improve the quality of the services we provide.
- The Trading Standards Manager will contact you personally if you are unhappy with the service received.

In addition, we have introduced the following standards against which we will monitor the responsiveness of our service.

Customer feedback

- Our quality assurance procedures assess the work of our officers to ensure the service meets the high standards expected.
- Our commitment to working with local businesses and the local community enables us to improve levels of satisfaction.
- We will support economic growth and continually strive to provide a fair, consistent and high quality service.
- We aim to enhance the quality of life of residents within the borough, making Slough a safer environment to live, where service users can access advice and make healthy and informed choices.

- During 2016/2017 customer satisfaction levels remained at 100 per cent, although surveys were not carried out throughout the year as the survey forms were amended to better reflect our activity and the expectations of stakeholders.
- Likewise, we also achieved a high satisfaction with our business contacts.
- All feedback received is used to enhance and improve our service and to prioritise our resources in the most effective way.

SBC Values

We care deeply about the work we do for our town and its residents, visitors and businesses; all the people we are accountable to. We are ambitious in our plans for the borough, innovative in our thinking and actions; all the time listening and responsive to those who need us, empowering and supporting everyone to reach their goals.

We are one team.
We are Slough Borough Council

Freedom of Information

Last year the service dealt with 12 requests for information under the Freedom of Information Act 2000 which gives a right of access to a wide range of information held by public authorities.

Resourcing

Slough Trading Standards employs eight staff, two of whom are part time (effectively seven full time employees). There are six FTE enforcement officer posts within the team.

The allocated budget for 2017/18 is £291,600

We aim to increase the commercialisation of the service to maximise our cost recovery activities and further offset the cost of service delivery, while maintaining resilience and our ability to delivery our core statutory work.

Resilience and capacity

In conjunction with our aim to maximise income and act more commercially, we also aim to look into any opportunity to increase our resilience and capacity. The service is currently looking into different ways this can be achieved and is looking into alternative delivery models which may achieve this aim.

Professional development

The on-going development of the work force is paramount to ensure a comprehensive and competent service is provided to the customer, while maintaining continuous improvement and providing value for money.

The Regulators Code requires that the council's regulatory services maintains the competency of its officers and also that we have officers with sufficient skills to maintain the breadth of competency needed for Slough specifically. Food standards officers and trading standards practioners are also required to carry out 20 hours of CPPD activity per year.

Looking to the future and the challenges ahead

This coming year there will also be major changes with the onset of new regulations which will affect consumers, businesses and enforcers alike. These regulations include:

- Standardised Packaging of Tobacco Regulations 2016
- Tobacco and Related Products Regulations 2016
- The Pyrotechnic Articles Regulations 2015
- The Enterprise Act 2016
- Regulating our Future

➤ Brexit

We will monitor the impact these new pieces of legislation have on the work we do. The implementation of the Psychoactive Substances Act 2016 will require a strategic assessment to be carried out by police and the council. There will also need to be a memorandum of understanding, or similar policy document, detailing how the different enforcement authorities should engage with suppliers. The Trading Standards Manager will seek to get clarification from police at a regional level on this in the near future.

The Trading Standards Service will also have to enforce the new tobacco regulations. A lot of our enforcement work involves the supply of illicit tobacco, so these pieces of legislation will have an impact on how we carry out our duties.

From 5 July 2017, the Pyrotechnic Articles Regulations 2015 dictate that all fireworks must be CE marked. There has been a transition period to allow for traders to accommodate this change. There may be issues where old fireworks stock, conforming to British standards may still be on sale and the service will have to put resourced into ensuring this is minimised as much as possible.

The Enterprise Act 2016 will bring changes to the way the Primary Authority scheme is run and administered. As we have a large number of primary authority companies in our portfolio, the transition to this new regime will have to be managed carefully.

The Trading Standards Service plan for 2017/18, which outlines our planned work for the year, is detailed in Appendix B.

Variation from the service plan

Departures from this service plan will be exceptional, capable of justification and be fully considered by the Trading Standards Manager before varying action is taken. Reasons for any departure will be fully documented in the action plan and reflected upon in the next service plan.
